

Experienced Locum Stud Vet Required

B & W Equine Vets is looking for an experienced Locum vet to join their team during the 2018 Northern hemisphere stud season at the Willesley Clinic, near Tetbury, Gloucestershire.

The Willesley clinic client base is a mixture of TB and sports horse breeders and the site has its own onsite stud with all the facilities expected of a commercial stud farm. It is supported by services available at the main B&W Equine Hospital in Breadstone, Gloucestershire, which has Diplomates in medicine, surgery and imaging and includes two surgical suites, intensive care unit, MRI, CT and Gamma scintigraphy.

The caseload will consist of:

- Sports horse breeding with fresh, chilled and frozen semen
 - Thoroughbred studwork
- Embryo transfer with an expanding herd of B & W recipient mares
- Stallion assessment, collection and semen evaluation for shipping commercially and as part of fertility examinations for both resident and walk-in stallions

The role also includes regular non-stud ambulatory duties, both routine and for emergencies as part of the wider Willesley team.

The successful applicant must be a team player with exceptional client care and excellent communication skills. Out of hours, including on-call one night a week. Weekends, are covered on a 1:4 rota basis.

In return, we will supply you with:

- A company vehicle
- All equipment required to support your role
- Accommodation arranged for candidates travelling from overseas
- Fixed term contract including holiday and sickness allowance + VDS cover paid for the duration
- Company discounted rates on services and supplies (extends to Equine, large and small animal)
 - In-house CPD run by hospital specialists, and experienced vets
- Wellbeing is incredibly important to us, and all staff receive access to the company's health assured support
 - Salary is dependent on experience

The Willesley clinic is in a truly beautiful country location, close to Tetbury and with good motorway links to major cities and the rest of the UK'
